We freely confess that while we have no scruples as to the right of holding slave property, and had no sympathy with the abelitionists in their course in regard to it, still we have ever been prepared to meet that or any question and decide upon its merits in connection with its bearings upon the perpetuity of the Union. We fully endorsed the sentiments of Mr. Lincoln in his re-ply to Horace Greeley, and the views he he therein presented appeared to meet the approbation of the loyal men of the whole nation. Captain Andrews, from Coldwater, Michgan, was wounded in one of the Maryland attles. He drank what was supposed to be whisky from a canteen left by some rebel in his retreat. The Captain was badly poisoned, and it was found that an is other poisoned canteens were left be hind, for the purpose of murdering our troops. The rebels had better complain of Northern barbarism and dishonor!

The War Department is much troubled as to the disposal of many of the old reg iments that are reduced to skeletons. A law of Congress vests the authority to ap point officers of volunteers or militis in the Governors of States, and therefore the new regiments cannot be joined to the old ones without duplicating the officers. In New Hampshire it was proposed to over-come the difficulty by consolidating the 2d and 4th regiments into one; but for some reason the project fell through.

Celonel Foster, commanding a force of Indiana cavalry in Kentocky, attacked and routed a strong band of guerrrillas at Ashbyaburg, on the night of the 20th ult. Our troops killed five of the enemy and made five prisoners; they also cap-tured lots of arms, horses, camp equipage and stores. But for the unlucky ground-ing of a steamboat in Green River, which The following comment upon the President's emancipation proclamation by a chire guerrillaband would have been cap-

THE Provost Marshal business has been reduced to a system. There is to be a senior Provost at Washington, with an assistant in each State, whose duty it shall arrest all deserters or stragglers and send them to the nearest military post, as also to appreheud all persons guilty of treasonable practices. Authority is given them to employ the military force, sheriffs and cemen in their respective localities. Tor Pennsylvanians think that Govern-Curtin disbanded his militia too soon, d should have retained them in service for the defence of the State frontier. Philadelphia and Harrisburg papers alike seem to doubt that the rebels have been suffiutly whipped to put an end to their scheme of Northern invasion.

GENERAL Buckner's report of his operaons at Fort Donelson, is very lengthy .-He says the force in the fort did not exseed 12,000 men at any time.

GOVERNORS ADDRESS CONTINUED. We hail with heart-felt gsatitude and encouraged hope, the proclamation of the President, issued on the 22d of September, declaring emancipated from their bondage all persons held to service or labor, as slaves in the rebel states, whose rebellion shall last till the first day of January. The right of any person to retain authority to compel any portion of the sub ects of the government to rebel against it or to maintain its enemies, implies in those who allowed possession of such, authority to rebel themselves; and therefore the right to establish martial law or military ernment in a state or territory in re ellion, implies the right and the duty of the Government to liberate the minds of all persons living therein, by appropriate being poured out like water to uphold that life:

VISIT OF THE PRESIDENT TO THE ARBIY. HEADQUARTERS ARMY POTOMAC, )

October 2, 1862.

President Lincoln arrived at Harper's Ferry on special train from Washington, yesterday afternoon. He was met by Mao Sumner's headquarters.

The President was accompanied by Gen. McClernand, members of his staff, mar-

At Sumner's hendquarters he was met by McClellan. After a cordial interview, the President, accompanied by McClellan, Summer, and a brilliant cavalende, composgreeted the President and McClellan with the railroad bridge and government buildings at Harper's Ferry, when he returned to Bolivar Heights and passed the night with Sumner. This morning, the President, accompanied by Sumner and other ground where the troops surrendered.

At noon, he left Harper's Ferry and rode overto McClellan's headquarters. During the afternoon, McClellan conducted the President over Antietam battle-field, ac-companied by a brilliant array of officers, including McClellan's staff. The President manifested the greatest interest in every-thing connected with our recent victory. In the evening, he returned to McClellan's headquarters, where he will pass the night in camp. He was serenaded by the band of the 2d Cavalry. To-morrow he will review other troops of the army of the Potomac. Saturday he will return to Washington by special train via Frederick. The President is in excellent health and spirits, and highly pleased with the good condition of the troops.
